Be a Good Dragon

When Enzo the dragon catches a cold, it’s no mere sniffle. No indeed! His coughs and sneezes set fields aflame and barns on fire. The villagers are fleeing their farms and the townsfolk are up in arms. What’s a poor fire-sneezing dragon to do? As it turns out, a royal magician has just the right medicine to help Enzo get rid of his cold. And soon, with a little bit of Abbra-ka-brew, Enzo is feeling better and ready to head back to his dragon den. Told in rollicking rhyming text this cautionary tale from author/illustrator Kurt Cyrus (Shake a Leg, Egg! and Invisible Lizard) reminds readers of all ages to cover their mouths when they sneeze.

Bullying the bullfrog lives in a pond full of lilies. The flowers are beautiful, fragrant, and enjoyed by the many other creatures that also inhabit the pond. The pond is a very pleasant place to live. Or it should be. Instead, Bully decides that only he should be able to enjoy the beautiful lilies. He demands that the other inhabitants of the pond leave. And once Bully has the flowers to himself, his selfish behaviour almost destroys them. Can anyone stop Bully and his bullying ways? As it turns out, the answer is YES! Using humour and whimsy, author-illustrator Jennifer Sattler masterfully shows young readers that standing up together can make all the difference in the world.

An Extraordinary Ordinary Moth

Feeling quite ordinary, a plain gray moth sadly compares itself to its more exotic kin, such as the Luna Moth, the Spider Moth, and the Hummingbird Moth. And the little moth feels even worse when a young girl sees it and says “Eewww!” But things change when her brother explains that this particular type of moth is his favourite kind of insect. Maybe an ordinary moth is really extraordinary after all. Back matter includes fascinating moth facts, along with a special activity.

Four Seasons of Fun:

Egg Hunts! Fireworks! Pumpkins! Reindeer!

Set against the backdrop of a magnificent apple tree, this book uses poetry to cycle through the changes of the four seasons. Beginning with springtime, rhyming couplets take young readers through seasonal activities such as kite flying in the spring, summertime picnicking, fall trick-or-treating, all the way to building snowmen in the winter, before cycling back to spring again. One verse in each season references a major holiday, including Easter and Christmas.

Hi! I'm the New Baby

Award-winning author Tina Powell gets her inspiration from everyday life. When Tina’s son held his new baby sister for the first time, he immediately wanted to know if she could talk. That gave Tina an idea. Who better to teach an older sibling what a baby can and cannot do than the baby itself? In this heartwarming, interactive book, a new baby tells its older sibling all the things it can and cannot do, while posing questions to the older child. Hi! I’m the New Baby uses understanding, communication, and respect to help children find that special love and friendship that only siblings can share.

Hu-Wan and the Sleeping Dragon

Outside Beijing, China, in the year 1572, nine-year-old Hu-Wan tends the vegetable garden with his grandfather. Their specialty is growing gourds that are made into ladles and bowls and sold in the marketplace. Each year, one special gourd is made into a cricket cage. This year, it is Hu-Wan’s turn to grow and carve the special gourd. He decides it should be carved into the shape of a sleeping dragon. When Hu-Wan learns that the emperor has died and his nine-year-old son is named Emperor of China, he decides to give the dragon cricket cage to the young emperor to offer comfort and cheer.

Yo ho ho! It’s the first day of kindergarten. Just imagine all the fun things to learn and experience! And who better than a pirate captain to drive the bus to school? He’s ready to share all the rules one needs to know to ride the bus and to get along with mates at school. But with the anticipation of the first day of school there also comes a bit of anxiety. And it turns out that being a big, blustery pirate captain is no guarantee against feeling insecure and a little frightened in strange and uncomfortable situations. Who can help a rough and tough pirate captain get over his fears and back to driving the school bus? Using humour and pirate-speak, Kindergarten Bus addresses some of the concerns and anxiety that many children feel on their first day of school or at the start of any new undertaking.

Mela and the Elephant

Mela sets out to explore the river outside her village but quickly ends up in trouble when her little boat is swept downstream and into the dense jungle. She encounters a crocodile, a leopard, and some monkeys, offering each a prize return for helping her find her way home but the animals snatch up their rewards without helping Mela back to her village. Just when she’s about to give up, an elephant shows Mela that kindness is its own reward. This fable is told with authentic Thai customs and includes an author’s note with more Thai traditions and language.

Sports Are Fantastic Fun!

Cycling, ice hockey, athletics, tennis... There are many sports and each has its merits: football is great, except when your team keeps shooting and missing. It can make you cry. Horse-riding is wonderful—so long as the horse does what the rider wants. Running, cycling and swimming require agility and endurance. Other sports like ballet are not about speed but strength and style. Golfers have to hit a ball into 18 holes. If they fail, they’ll have enjoyed a walk among the sandtraps.

The Stone Bird

It might look like a pebble from the beach, but Eliza knows this is an egg. And one night when she hears cracking, she discovers the Stone Bird. It might still look like a stone to her mom, but Eliza knows it’s alive. Step into the magical world of one child’s imagination in this stunning debut by exciting new author Jenny McCartney, illustrated by luminary of children’s books Patrick Benson.

Stone Underpants

Pod lives in the Stone Age and finds that he often has a cold bottom! So he invents underpants! Unfortunately his choice of material is not always practical. Will he find something that is both warm and flexible, so he can play with his friends?

A Tuba Christmas

With a family that loves music as much as hers does, it was only a matter of time before it was Ava’s turn to pick out an instrument. Her mother plays the piano, her father plays the violin, and one brother plays the cello while the other plays the clarinet. As soon as Ava selects an instrument, she will be able to join them as they practice for the annual holiday concert. And her family has definite ideas on what instrument Ava should select, from the piano to the flute to the violin. But Ava isn’t interested in any of them. Ava wants to play the tuba. And she gets her wish. But playing the tuba isn’t as easy as it seems. And there is no place for a tuba in the annual concert. But with the encouragement of her music teacher, Ava finds a place for her and her tuba in a special holiday celebration.

The Universe Ate My Homework

Abby hates doing homework. In fact, she'll do whatever it takes to get out of it-like using her homework to make a baby universe! She finds some instructions in her dad's study, works up lots of energy, and, with the help of her dog, Comet, creates one. She's tempted to escape into the universe-where she's sure she wouldn't have to do homework ever again-but ultimately decides to stay right where she is with the family she loves.

A Valentine for Frankenstein

Frankenstein isn't your typical monster. For starters, he only has just head, only two eyes, and no tail. And worst of all, he's incredibly nice! Frankenstein quickly realizes his friendly behavior is out of place at the Valentine's Day Bash. Still he's comfortable in his own green skin. Perhaps a secret valentine from a mysterious sender might help the others accept Frankenstein-and one another-for the monsters that they are.

The Amazing Adventures of Abby McQuade

Some would call Largo Bay quirky. Others would call it downright strange. To Abby McQuade it’s just home. Abby has a big imagination. And her curiosity always leads to trouble. Every adventurer has a sidekick. Holmes had Watson. Batman had Robin. Abby has her bestie, Clara Erickson. Clara is regimented, hyper-scheduled, and disciplined. Abby is not. Abby is yin to Clara’s yang. Would her bestie be bored without Abby’s curious mind? Totally.

The Bolds

The Bolds—the hyena family successfully impersonating as humans—have become legendary in the animal kingdom. Soon their house is full of visitors hoping to learn how to pass as humans too. There’s a crocodile who can’t quite tame her appetite, a poodle who wants to be a famous singer, and runaway racehorses hiding from their owner. With so many houseguests, the Bolds have their hands (ahem, paws) full. Can they teach these outcast critters to survive in the human world?

Horace J. Edwards and the Time Keepers

In The Search for the Lost Prophecy, the sequel to The Secret of the Scarab Beetle, Horace continues to search for more information about the Time Keepers and his role in this secret order. After he discovers that the tree portal at his grandparents’ farm is destroyed, Horace, along with his friends Anna and Milton, travels back in time to 1920s Detroit, hoping to learn more. There they meet keeper Herman at the Scarab Club and learn that someone is threatening the Time Keepers and the order’s mission. Horace finds out that the mystical Benben Stone is being stored in a crypt back in present-day Niles, Michigan. And Horace is now tasked with keeping the sacred stone safe. Will the person or persons threatening the Order learn of Horace’s true identity?

How to Be an Earthling®

Earthlings are weird! After Spork crashes his spaceship on the school playground, he joins Mrs. Buckle’s third-grade class to fulfill his mission of earning a Galaxy Scouts Explorer Badge! But figuring out how to act like an Earthling isn’t easy. Respect? Honesty? These rules seem completely odd to Spork! Each book in the How to Be an Earthling® series focuses on a positive character trait and encourages kids to think about how their words and actions affect others. Fun back-of-book activities reinforce the story themes.

Meet Roderick—a scrawny, unremarkable teenager keeping a diary of his life in the Middle Ages. When he’s chosen to become a knight on a quest to find a holy relic (the fingers of St. Stephen), Roderick is determined to prove his honour and graduate from zero to hero. The hilarious Long Lost Secret Diary series put readers inside the heads of hapless figures from history struggling to carry out their roles and getting things horribly wrong. The accessible, irreverent stories will keep young readers laughing as they learn the importance of not being afraid to learn from one’s mistakes. The Mostly Miserable Life of April Sinclair

As freshman year winds down, April has a lot to look forward to, including getting her driving permit and spending the summer with her quirky almost-boyfriend, Leo. But she also knows her grandmother, Gaga, doesn’t have much time left. On top of that, her closest friend, Sophie, is moving away. April struggles to make sense of everything. Does it matter if you stay positive while losing a loved one to cancer? What do you do when you’re caught between friends keeping secrets? How do you know whether an important decision is the right one? Most importantly, what would Gaga say to do when life hands you lemons?

Mysterium

Twelve-year-old Danny Woo was born and raised in the Mysterium Circus, a “new circus” outfit made up of eccentrics and artists with extraordinary talents. But after the sudden and suspicious death of his parents, Danny finds himself caught up in a plot that threatens to destroy much more than his beloved circus. Armed with the tricks his parents taught him, from lock picking to hypnosis to death-defying escape stunts, Danny must fight to survive and uncover the truth... before time runs out.

Quinnie Boyd Mysteries

In the coastal village of Maiden Rock, Maine, Quinnie Boyd’s teacher has disappeared. Quinnie thinks it’s a kidnapping case, but her mom, the town sheriff, just thinks the teacher has left town. Still, Quinnie’s going to follow her instincts that something’s wrong. Her investigation takes her through a damp and smelly marsh, a lobster pound, and more of Maine’s messiest places. She even gets help from her glamorous new neighbour, Mariella. As the girls hunt for clues, they encounter a swarm of cats, two nuns with a speeding habit, and a group of tattooed rocker-types. But will they find Quinnie’s teacher?

The Secret of Goldenrod

When Trina and her father move into an abandoned wreck of a mansion called Goldenrod, Trina thinks her life is finally coming together. She can put down roots at last. Maybe she’ll even have a best friend! But the kids at school make fun of her, and it seems like Goldenrod itself is haunted. Then Trina finds Augustine, a tiny porcelain doll left behind when the house was boarded up a century ago. Augustine isn’t like other dolls: she talks and talks and talks. Augustine helps Trina realize that Goldenrod is trying to tell her an important secret . . . one that may just change her life.

When Saville’s father falls ill, Saville must don boys’ clothes and take her place as tailor of Reggen just to keep them fed. Soon after Saville assumes her new identity, the people of the kingdom are set on edge when stories spread of an army of giants led by a man who cannot be killed. And they’re marching toward Reggen to seize the throne. Then Saville meets two giant scouts and tricks them into leaving the city gates. Tales of the daring tailor’s triumph quickly spin into impossible feats of giant-slaying. But mere stories won’t deter the Duke and his larger-than-life army. Now, only a courageous and clever tailor girl can see beyond the tales to save the kingdom again.

The Seasons (Cherry Blossom Press)

The Seasons uses a curriculum based approach to get children comfortable with reading. Each book in this series uses a combination of sight words and short-vowel words in repetition to build recognition and confidence. Bold, colourful photographs help guide readers through the text. Text and format is created by Cecilia Minden, PhD, a literacy consultant and former director of the Language and Literacy program at Harvard Graduate School of Education. Includes phonics and teachers’ guide.

Master Math

The Singapore math teaching method teaches mathematical concepts in three stages: concrete, pictorial and abstract. Master Math applies this technique to the math curriculum. Using simple pictorial exercises and an engaging mascot, this series makes learning easy and enjoyable for children. Presented in a non-workbook style to supplement what is taught in the classroom, there are parent and teacher notes throughout, which make the book a valuable resource for students everywhere. The author is a seasoned publishing professional who has worked on the OUP textbook program Inspire Maths, based on Singapore’s number one math series.

Dinosaur Days

Journeying back through time, Dinosaur Days acquaints readers with eight creatures of the Mesozoic era. Using age-appropriate language, this series will whet young palaeontologists’ appetites as it uncovers when and where important fossils have been found as well as what these fossilized remains have revealed about the dinosaur’s lifestyle, including how its physical features aided survival in its prehistoric habitat and theories about its extinction. A timeline spotlights the period when the dinosaur lived, and a closing comparative graphic provides additional context on the animal’s size. Supports the Next Generation Science Standards.

I'm the Biggest! New Series!

From shortest to longest, deepest to tallest, and smallest to biggest, this series uses varying degrees of comparison to encourage curious young explorers to take a closer look at the relationships of the flora, fauna, and landforms of six different biomes. I'm the Biggest! uses simple but dynamic language to place each ecosystem under investigation, peering through binoculars, under a microscope, or through a camera to study how the region’s features affect its inhabitants, as well as how the inhabitants flourish within the environment. Striking photos aid in the books' visual appeal, while graphics and maps supply real-world examples of each ecosystem, encouraging readers to further explore the topic at hand.

Fast Tracks: Animals in Danger!

This appealing series encourages young readers to learn about animals—some familiar, and some less so. Around the world, animals of all types are under threat from habitat loss, environmental changes, and human action. These animals are fascinating, but they are also key parts of larger ecosystems, so if their numbers drop, other species could be affected too. Each book is arranged in spreads that flow naturally from one to the next, so that readers can build their understanding. Fact boxes add extra information on some spreads. Each book ends with information on conservation efforts, a fact file, graphing activity, glossary, suggestions of other books to read and web sites to visit, and a simple index.

Gardening Lab for Kids

This series presents hands-on exercises, activities, and projects on popular topics, organized into weekly lessons. Each lesson contains a full materials list and accompanying photographs of the process as well as finished samples. Each activity includes useful side notes to expand on the themes and dig deeper. The Labs can be used as singular projects or build on experiences. They are open-ended, able to be explored over and over—with different results each time. The activities are geared for children being taught or guided by adults and are successful on multiple levels of age and experience. This award-winning series offers a fresh source of creative learning activities and lesson plans for educators, homeschoolers, DIY-inspired parents, and scouting and community groups.
